

Staff Exchange

International Health Data Linkage Network

If you or your organisation is interested in being involved in the International Health Data Linkage Network's Staff Exchange Program please complete the following expression of interest form.

The information you provide will help link interested members together, be they programmers, data linkers or researchers. It will also help in determining if you have a preference for exchanging with or hosting members from a particular institution.

We will update IHDLN members with the expressions of interest for the staff exchange.
